Multi-Specialty Dental Group

With miracles of modern dentistry, we can restore function, esthetics and comfort to the oral structures, by providing state of the art dental treatment to our patients. Dental treatments are usually successful with excellent outcomes. However, since dentistry is not an exact science, and there are variations in patients' physiological response to dental treatments, in remote occasions complications may occur.

Initials

We are trained and equipped to handle most complications. In case of problems with dental restorations, they will be repaired or replaced for a period of one year without charge to the patient. It is our moral and legal duty to inform our patients of the possibility of complications however unusual and remote they may be.

Radiographs (X-rays):

I have been advised, and I consent to the following:

a. I am to receive a full mouth series of X-RAYS every five years or when in the judgment of the doctor, it is necessary. This series of radiographs will provide diagnostic information and documentation for my teeth and surrounding oral tissues.
b. I will receive periodic examination and X-rays for the correct and accurate diagnosis of my oral condition.
c. I will consent to diagnostic X-rays at a frequency as assessed by the doctor.
   I understand that all reasonable precautions will be taken to minimize my exposure to unnecessary radiation.

I have read the above statements and have received a copy of them if requested, and recognize their importance in helping me make decisions. My initials indicate that I have read and understand this consent document. I recognize that failures can occur for all kinds of reasons and that complications can occur in any procedure. I also understand that, where decay has occurred, or a tooth has fractured or abscessed, that these same forces are still working on the tooth even after it has been restored: therefore, decay or fracture can still occur as the restored tooth is no better than what nature has given in the first place. If for any reason a conflict or disagreement should arise I will first present such conflict or disagreement to my attending dentist in order to resolve the problem. If we are unable to agree on a solution, then I agree to take the problem to a reconciliation / mediation board such as the dental society and agree to accept their resolution in lieu of pursuing remedies by way of litigation. I also understand that this agreement is binding on my heirs and all other family members. I now give my consent to the attending dentist to render to me the dental treatment that we have agreed is necessary (I also agree to reimburse the attending dentist for all services rendered to me and I am aware that the payment for these services is due at the time they are rendered.
